What’s important to you in your community?

How can we better connect the urban areas of Wyndham?

How can we create more time for life through better urban planning?

If you’ve got answers to these questions, I encourage you to have a read of the Wyndham Urban Framework, Emerging Options paper and share your thoughts.

It’s no secret that Wyndham is growing. Our current population sits at 270,478, and this figure is expected to grow to 489,379 by 2041. As more people choose to call Wyndham home, it’s important that we have a solid plan in place to ensure that this growth is met with the connectivity, infrastructure, open spaces, transport, jobs, and diversity of housing needed to make our City more liveable.

The Wyndham Urban Framework Plan sets out the long-term direction for the sustainable development of our municipality, but we can’t do it alone. When I ran for Council back in 2016, one of the platforms that I ran on was transparent community consultation. I believe it’s very important for the community to join us on the journey when it comes to making long-term plans for the future.

I encourage you all to have a read of the Wyndham Urban Framework Plan Emerging Options Paper, and share your thoughts by completing a short survey.

Alternatively, join us for a two-hour hands-on information session where we’ll discuss and workshop how we can make Wyndham more liveable. Information sessions will be held on Thursday 13 June between 6.30pm and 8.30pm at Wyncity in Point Cook, and Tuesday 25 June between 10am and noon at Eagle Stadium in Werribee.

To complete the survey or to register one of the information sessions, visit www.theloop.wyndham.vic.gov.au/urbanplan

Regards, Mia Shaw.