

DRESS UP FOR BOOK WEEK

Curious Creatures, Wild Minds - the theme for Book Week this year.

It's a little bit curious and totally wild, because Book Week is happening from October 17-23 this year, instead of happening in August.

Do we mind?

No! Because we still get to dress up as our favourite book characters.

Do you like to dress up?

You can create your own costume at home using items from around the house. Just make sure to ask first before you use something.

You might use fabric, an old sheet, old towels, fabric markers, paint, stickers, cardboard, ribbon, foam, or old clothes such as shorts, leggings or a t-shirt. You might make a mask, a hat or wear a themed t-shirt.

Maybe you have a costume already—so you might like to wear that.

We can't have a parade in the library this year, but if you would like to, you can submit a photo of yourself in your costume to our Kids Club Online Gallery. If you are shy, like I am, you can hold the book that your character comes from, in front of your face. That way we still get to see your amazing costume.

This is a good opportunity to revisit all your favourite books and decide who you would like to be. Maybe other members of the family would like to get involved!
