

Decorate with Polaroid Pictures

Do you like taking pictures? Do you have a Polaroid camera?

Or have you made a Polaroid frame to put your regular photos in? **

Then you need to display your Polaroid pics for everyone to see.

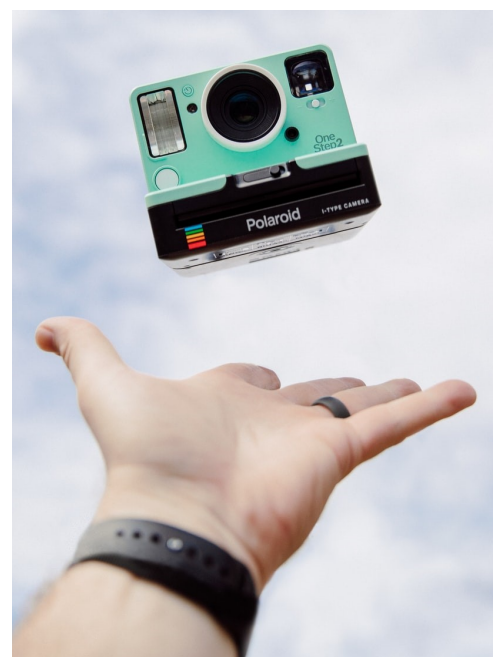

The following pages contain ideas about how you might like to decorate your space using Polaroid pictures.

Have a look and see which ideas appeal to you.

Get inspired and get decorating!

**See the Kids Club Online activity sheet called, "Make your own Polaroid photo frame".

Create a mood board of your favourite pictures

Use a bright background and mount up your photos.

This could be a board, on cardboard or in a frame.

It could be on paper, fabric or on a pin board.

Sit the board/frame on a shelf, on your desk or hang it on the wall.

Make an artwork out of multiple pictures

You can take a number of photos of the same location or person or situation.

By layering them over the top of each other, you can then create an artwork which represents the whole image. See the example below.

This would make a great present for a friend or member of your family.

So, Guitar Guy is shown here sitting in a garden with his guitar. Multiple pics show this scenario in a more creative way, rather than just using a single image.

Mount the Polaroid photos on a board or background.

Hang your pictures up

Peg the Polaroid pics up on a string.

Pin the pics on a pin board.

Make a display that appeals to you.

Take a picture of a picture

You can make an artwork by repeating the same, or similar images, in both photographs.
