

INDIANA JONES

activity book

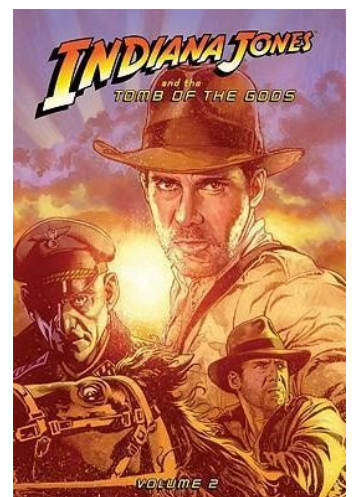

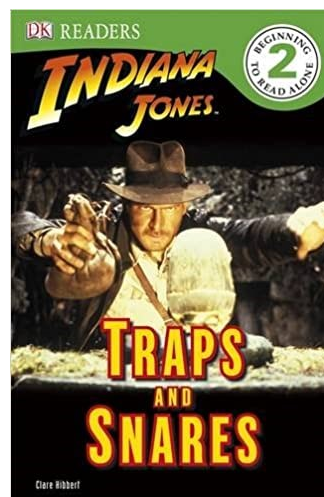

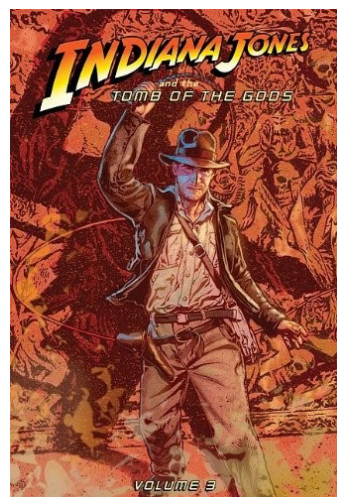

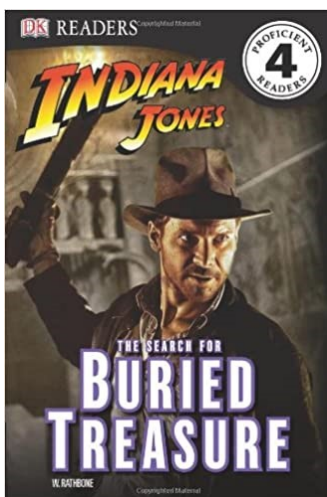

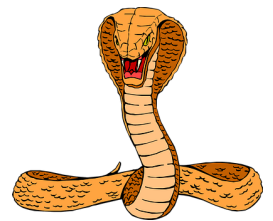

Indiana Jones burst onto our screens in 1981 in the movie The Raiders of the Lost Ark.

A heroic professor of archaeology with a wry and often sarcastic sense of humour, the character has appeared in numerous films, books, graphic novels, video games and even on tv. He has a deep knowledge of languages and ancient civilizations, which he uses in his quests to find ancient artefacts and to defeat the bad guys. As heroic as he is, he has an extreme fear of snakes!

To find out more about Indiana Jones and his many adventures, search the library catalogue for “Indiana Jones”. You might like to borrow a book, a movie or a graphic novel.

Follow Dr Jones’ adventures in this activity booklet. And watch out for the snakes!

INDIANA JONES snakes and ladders

Help Indiana Jones get to the pyramid. Climb the ladders if you can, but beware of the snakes!

To play—print out the snakes and ladders game on the next page or design your own template.

Each player has a counter and places it on the start square.

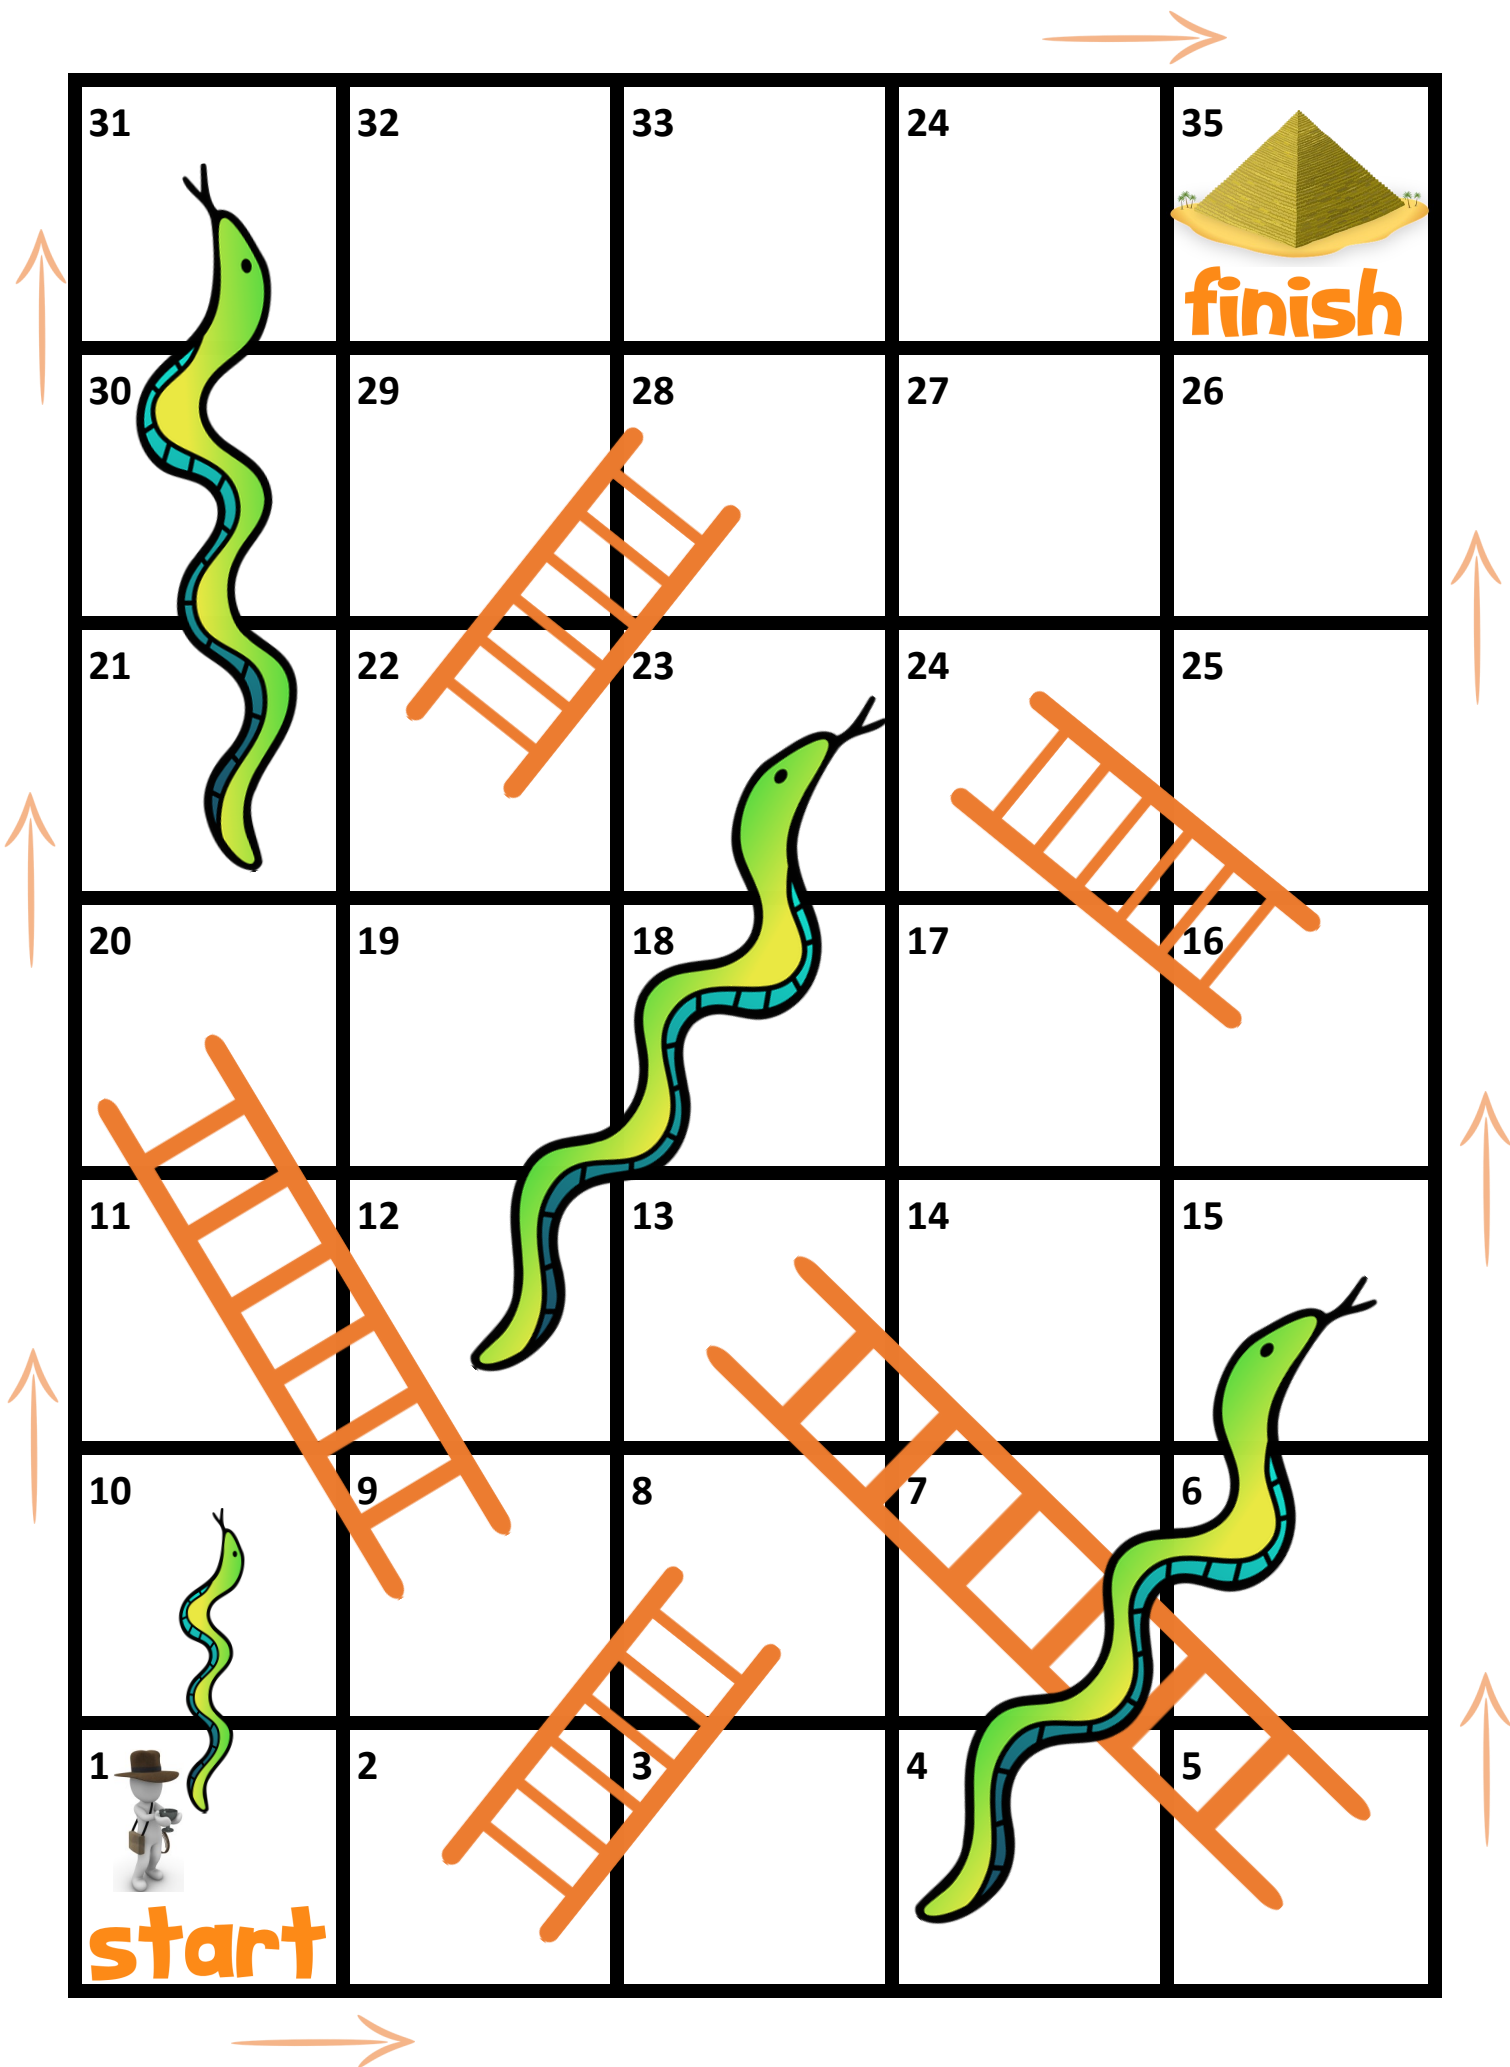

Each player rolls the dice and the highest number goes first.

When it is their turn, each player rolls the dice and travels forward the number of squares shown on that dice ie 3. If you land in a square that has a ladder going up, you can climb the ladder and advance to the square at the top of the ladder. The player must then travel on from that square.

If a player lands in a square that has a snake head, that player must slide down the snake to the square containing the snake tail. The player must then travel on from that square.

First player to land on the finish square wins.

If you do not have a dice, search the internet for “dice template” and make your own.
