

PHOTOGRAPHS WITH LIGHT AND SHADOW

Light and shadow have been a favourite with photographers for a long time. They are always trying to get the best photograph which balances the use of light and shadow in their pictures to create an artistic outcome.

How does it work? Using a light source such as a lightbulb, torch, candles, or the sun to create patches of light in the photograph. Move the camera lens or objects in order to create dark patches in the frame. You might like to play around with this effect. You may have to take several pictures before you get the look you are going for.

Below are some inspiration pictures. Study them and see if you can work out where the light source is coming from.

When you take your photographs, you might like to share them with the Kids Club Online gallery.
