

ART OUTSIDE

Do you like making and creating art?

Sometimes it can be hard to get inspired when you are inside the house or the art studio.

Why not try taking your art outside? You might find inspiration in nature, or by being spontaneous and heading outdoors.

You might set up a table in the garden for your drawing or painting.

You might go to the park with a sketchpad.

You might go to a café to draw or paint.

You might go outside and meet up with friends and spend time making and creating together.

Think about how nature and the weather can inspire your art.

Is it windy? Is it sunny? Is it cold? Is it hot? How will that show up in your creation.

Can you make your art on a bigger scale outside? With more space around you, can you try something different?

You may like to share your creation on the Kids Club Online Gallery.

And let us know that the artwork was created “outside”.
