

FUNNY FOOD CARTOONS

Pictures of food can make a great starting point for drawing cartoons.

You can draw the fruit or vegetable yourself and give it human features (crossed eyes are always funny).

Or you can take an existing picture of food and draw the features on with a black marker.

You can use pictures from the internet and print them out, or you can use pictures from a magazine or even from a supermarket catalogue.

Or you can use a digital drawing program and insert vector shapes and images on top of the original image.

(See the example below wearing the hat.)

Create funny faces, speech bubbles or even have the food tell a funny joke.

Get drawing and get creating.
